CHICAGO FEARS A REIGN OF ANARCHY

Alleged Terrorists in Jail; Officials Are Aroused.

COMPANION OF DEAD ANARCHIST ARRESTED

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CHICAGO, March 3.—Isidore Maron, twenty years old, a Russian Jew known as "The Curly Haired Boy," companion of the anarchist who was shot and killed yesterday in his attempt to assassinate Chief Shippey, and who has been identified as Lazarus Averbuch, was arrested today near Averbuch's home by Detectives O'Connell and O'Brien of the Chief's office.

Maron is the young man who is known by the police to have attended an anarchist meeting at Workman's Hall with Averbuch last Sunday night and who is declared by the police to have been the slain assassin's most intimate companion. Maron and Averbuch were together throughout the meeting and are said to have left the hall together after the meeting.

After his arrest Maron was closely questioned. For a time he refused to admit his identity but finally acknowledged that he had known Averbuch for some time and that they had attended an anarchist meeting together. Considerable anarchistic literature was found in his possession when he was searched at the station.

Four Are Held.

According to Detectives O'Connell and O'Brien, Maron went to the home of a number of persons living in the immediate vicinity of Averbuch's home early today and made inquiries as to Averbuch. Maron, the police say, cannot read English and speaks the language badly.

In addition to Maron four other persons are being held by the police in connection with the attempted assassination of Chief Shippey. Their names are Olga Averbuch, twenty-two years old, a sister of Chief Shippey's assailant; Tonolitis Korimorov, a bartender in the employ of Mrs. Mary Adams, at 84 Canal street, and Edward Berman, 40 years old, a cobbler.

Berman, with William D. Siegel, a business partner, was arrested early today after the police had intercepted a telephone message. A sergeant was using the telephone when the wires became crossed and he heard some one say to Berman:

"For God's sake, get out of town. They're on."

Sister in Jail.

Siegel was released later after being severely questioned.

The police say that they have received information that Berman's shop was the congregating place for a crowd of men who visited nightly. Olga Averbuch, the sister of the dead assassin, is being held at the woman's quarters at the Harrison street police station. She slept but little during the night, crying most of the time.

Most of the young woman's story was told in broken English, but part of the time she talked through an interpreter. She told the police that she had four sisters, one of whom is married and lives in Odessa, Russia. The others, with two younger brothers, are with her parents in Austria, the family living near Vienna.

Her father, she declared, is an orthodox Jew has never taken part in a revolutionary movement and has always shunned secret societies. She declared that she herself had never read her brother's anarchistic books. When asked if she thought that he might have been insane she replied hesitatingly:

To Stop Anarchy.

"He was very peculiar. I don't know why he did what they say he did."

BOMBSHELL IN ENEMY'S CAMP

His Suit Startles Prosecutors and They Will Be Put Through Rigid Examination.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—It was as though a bomb shell had struck the camp of the prosecution when the news was received this morning of the suit filed by Ruef against the district attorney, special prosecutors, the special detective and Superior Judge Dunne for the purpose of recovering $4659.95, which the former boss paid for maintaining the house on Fillmore street, prior to his removal to the county jail.

More consternation will, it is said, be manifested when subpoenas are received by the several members of the prosecution to appear on separate days to the offices of Attorney Henry Ach in the Cofe building, and there give their depositions in the case under the questioning of M. C. Chapman of Oakland, who has been specially retained by Ruef for this purpose.

The examination will be extremely rigid and will go into all the facts of the private hotel maintained by order of Judge Dunne for keeping prisoner a man who had been promised immunity by the prosecution.

Biggy, Then Dunne.

Attorney Chapman says he will sift the affair to the bottom, and the program as now arranged will begin on Friday morning, when William J. Biggy, chief of police, will be called upon to make affidavit before notary Gustave Hartman as to just what part he played in the proceedings.

Saturday has been set apart for taking the testimony of Judge Dunne. Monday District Attorney Langdon will have his day, and unless the program is changed Sprickels and Henry will follow respectively on Tuesday and Wednesday.

In addition to the questioning in connection with the money paid out by Ruef since September 17, the witness will be questioned regarding $9386.30 which is the total amount paid by the treasurer's office for maintaining Ruef for the six months from March 8, 1907, to September 17. At the latter date he was told that Judge Dunne would no longer authorize the bills and he must pay himself for go to the county jail.

Fifty Dollars a Day.

It is a notable fact that $50 a day was the cost of maintaining Ruef, whom Dunne knew all along was not to be punished by the prosecution. The cost of maintenance at the county jail per day is roughly estimated at twenty-one cents, seven cents of this being for food. In the itemized bill on file at the treasurer's office showing the money paid for Ruef's keep there is no mention of salary for Billor Biggy, but of course, it is understood that he derived his compensation direct from the district attorney, as did also William J. Burns. The sons of both, however, are down on the salary roll as deputies at $1 per day each. Burns' son is only 18 years old, and the salary was obviously exorbitant.

The expending by the city of the sum of $9386.30 for keeping a prisoner who was to be allowed to go free is considered by many attorneys to be all together illegal, and they do not hesitate to say that it is the duty of the District Attorney to recover this money for the city. Others do not hesitate to proclaim that there is clear evidence of conspiracy between the members of the prosecution, who are mentioned as defendants in this case and Judge Dunne himself.

How the Money Went.

Whether the District Attorney may intend to recover the money for the city or not, Ruef will leave no stone unturned to get back the sum he expended for his maintenance after the city ceased to provide for him. A rigid investigation will be conducted and further startling developments may be expected.

ROBBERS TRY TO BLOW OPEN SAFE; WRECK BUILDING

Flee, Leaving Behind Trail of Silverware

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Three daring cracksmen, who are supposed to have been encouraged by the lack of police in Visitation Valley, at 3 o'clock this morning blew open the safe of Richard T. Llandorin, a jeweler at 185 Leland avenue, but failed to secure $1000 worth of booty because their heavy charge of nitro glycerine so wrecked the building and awoke the neighbors that they could not gather up the contents of the safe. Before they could secure a small quantity of silver plate the residents of the district were upon them and they fled, leaving behind a trail of silverware which they abandoned in their haste.

Mayor's Chauffeur Ought by Police

M. H. Barnard, chauffeur for Mayor Mott, was arrested yesterday afternoon for violating the speed limit. He was released on bail and appeared in the police court this morning and was given until tomorrow morning to plead to the charge against him. When Mayor Mott was advised of the arrest of his chauffeur he gave instructions for him to be fined provided it was shown that he had violated the law. It is understood, that Barnard has frequently been cautioned by the police, but has failed to heed a warning that he would be taken into custody if he kept on burning up the streets.

The policeman who arrested Barnard had no knowledge of his identity until after his arrest.

Mrs. Livingston Gerry Who was Miss Cornelia Harriman.

MISS HARRIMAN IS NOW BRIDE OF L. GERRY

Nuptials of Railway Magnate's Daughter One of the Most Brilliant in New York.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NEW YORK, March 3.—Miss Cornelia Harriman, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harriman, was married at noon today to Robert Livingston Gerry, son of Commodore and Mrs. Elbridge C. Gerry of New York. The ceremony was at Grace Episcopal Church and the wedding was one of the most brilliant of the many notable events which have marked the New York social season. The beautiful old church was thronged with members of the social and financial world of the metropolis and superbly decorated with greens, almond and peach blossoms and pink roses.

The bride was given away by her father and the officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. W. H. Huntington, pastor of Grace Church, assisted by the Rev. J. H. McGinness of Astoria, where Harriman's country place is located. Benediction was pronounced by the Right Rev. W. C. Doane, the bishop of Albany.

The maid of honor was Miss Mary Harriman, the bride's sister, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Ruth Averell, Marion A. Clark, Margaret Dix, Elsie Howland and Anita Peabody.

Handsome Gowns.

The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed with point de venise lace and she wore a Louis XV veil of point applique. The color scheme of the wedding was pink. The bridesmaids being gowned in peach-colored chiffon over tulle silk of the same hue, the brown plumes of their brown hats being tipped with peach. Mrs. Harriman wore a superb costume of pale mauve chiffon embroidered with hat of the same color.

The best man was Robert Goetz, Esq., and the ushers were Robert Goetz, Esq., Fredrick Kempton, Munson Morris, William Averell Harriman, all of New York and Aaron Davis and John S. Ames of Boston.

Wedding Breakfast.

After the ceremony a breakfast and reception was held at the Harriman residence, 514 Fifth avenue. There the scheme of decoration was yellow, consisting largely of delicate forget-me-nots and yellow roses, while the illumination scheme was so arranged as to give the effect of softened sunlight.

The union of these two prominent families is given peculiar interest by the fact that it is essentially an American marriage, there having been no foreign inter-marriage in either family for more than a hundred years. The bride's ancestry, through the Nelsons and the early line, was closely identified with the early civil and military history of the republic.

John Nelson, her great grandfather, was a colonel in the Continental Army under Washington and was elected from New Jersey to both the Continental Congress and the constitutional convention, but was unable to take his seat in those bodies.

He was also a member of the Continental Congress and a signer of the Declaration of Independence. After a brief honeymoon in this country Mr. and Mrs. Gerry will go abroad for an extended tour.

Miss Cornelia Harriman, daughter of E. H. Harriman, was said today to be seriously ill of mastoiditis at her father's home in this city. Miss Harriman was operated on in Baltimore a short time ago for mastoiditis. It was said that she would be re-operated and continued as serious that a consultation of ear specialists was held last night.

'BABY' JOHN GOES SCOT FREE FOR EVIDENCE

Boy, Who Blew Up the House of Judge Ogden, Did So From Terror.

Under section 28, subdivision 8, of the Penal Code, "Baby" John Martin cannot be prosecuted for complicity in the blowing up of the home of Judge Ogden or for any of the other attempts at dynamiting made by Mrs. Martin and him.

This subdivision reads: "Persons (unless the crime be punishable by death) who committed the act or made the omission charged under threats or menaces sufficient to show that they had reasonable cause to and did believe their lives would be endangered if they refused," and the subdivision defines one class of persons incapable of committing crime.

On the showing made before the grand jury yesterday that body refused to indict "Baby" John. According to Deputy District Attorney Donohue he will not be prosecuted on any charge.

Boy Feared for His Life.

"It was shown," said Donohue, "that Mrs. Martin threatened the boy's life, and made it appear that he had met death by an accidental explosion in the mine. And after the blowing up of the Ogden home she threatened to expose his part in the affair if he refused to do further bidding."

Mrs. Martin is an inveterate cigar smoker, according to Donohue. She consumes eight or nine cigars a day in her cell at Weaverville. Donohue was astonished when he first interviewed her.

He went into her cell with Detective Hodgkins and while conversing with her lit a cigar. He was puzzled to see Hodgkins wink at him in a meaningful way.

Mrs. Martin, Cigar Fiend.

"I didn't think he wanted a cigar," said Donohue, "as I thought he did not smoke them. But when I began to smoke he winked at me in a way that meant something. Puzzled, I offered him a cigar. He took it, but instead of smoking it himself, he offered it to Mrs. Martin, who placed it between her lips and lit it. He then began to puff away at it with great enjoyment. She smoked eight or ten of them a day."

To Go After Woman.

Wednesday morning Detective Hodgkins will leave for Weaverville armed with papers for the legal removal of Mrs. Martin from the Trinity county jail to the California city prison. He will be accompanied by Weaverville by District Attorney Hall of Trinity county and "Baby" John Martin, who will be taken back to Weaverville, he still being in the custody of District Attorney Hall. It is probable that steps will at once be taken to have the charge of arson pending against the boy dismissed. Legal action will also be taken to have a guardian other than Mrs. Martin appointed for the boy so that his portion of the Martin estate can be turned over to his guardian to be held in trust.

Mrs. Isabella Martin Indicted; Bail $50,000

Mrs. Isabella J. Martin has been indicted by the Grand Jury on a charge of attempting to dynamite the home of Judge F. S. Ogden. Bail was fixed at $50,000.

Detective Hodgkins will probably start for Weaverville tomorrow to bring her to this county for trial. District Attorney Hall of Trinity county has agreed to give her up.

The infernal machine that was found in De Fremery Park was meant for William J. Dineen, former president of the Contra Costa Water Company, and now president of the Standard Portland Cement Company. "Baby" John Martin testified yesterday to this effect before the Grand Jury.

Four Attempts in All.

Four attempts in all were made by him and his mother, he said, to dynamite the Dineen home at Washington and Franklin streets, San Francisco. Every time the passing of the street of some person frightened them away. Once "Baby" John, disguised as a girl, made the attempt alone, but was frightened off at the sight of a policeman.

Mrs. Martin's troubles with the water company extended over years. The water was turned off her premises because she refused to pay her bills. She wrote many threatening letters to Dineen, whom she held responsible.

"Baby" John Exonerated.

"Baby" John was exonerated by the Grand Jury of all blame in connection with the attempt to dynamite Judge Ogden's home. He testified that he had done what he did under coercion, Mrs. Martin having threatened to kill him if he did not obey her.

"I AM NOW SATISFIED I DID NOT KILL MY MOTHER," SAYS SODERBERG

EVLAND H. SODERBERG

Adds: 'I Thought Once I Might Have Done So!'

"In my own mind I am now satisfied I did not kill my mother," testified Evland H. Soderberg today during his trial before Judge Melvin for the murder of his mother, Sigrid Martha Soderberg. "I thought at one time that I might have done so," he added.

Soderberg's story is that he was in a daze from Saturday afternoon, March 23, 1907, until the next evening, Mrs. Soderberg was killed in her home on B street, Saturday evening, and her mutilated body was found in a closet in the house Sunday. Soderberg was arrested the same day. Detectives Hodgkins and Flynn have testified at the trial that he confessed to them that he had killed his mother, and his signed confession to this effect has been introduced in evidence.

"How do you know you didn't kill her?" Assistant District Attorney Hynes asked him today.

"Detectives Convinced Me."

"From the relations between myself and my mother," replied Soderberg, "I know that I could not have killed her."

that he thought he had killed her. He explained this by saying that "Hodgkins and Flynn had convinced him that he had been guilty of the murder." His recollection of Saturday night was indistinct, he said, and they had pictured his own part in the killing so vividly that he at last believed that he had cut his mother's throat, hacked at her body, wrapped her in a blanket, and placed her body in the closet.

"I thought then that I might have killed her," he said today on the witness stand, "and I did not care what I did, or what happened to me. I did not read the confession I signed, and the detectives did not read it to me. I just signed it because I did not care what became of me if I had killed my mother."

Denies Admissions.

"The witness denied that he had admitted to either Hodgkins or Flynn that he had actually killed his mother. He said that he told them, as he told the coroner's jury, that he believed that he had done so, but that he had no recollection of having done so. Hodgkins has testified that Soderberg said to him, in his prison cell, after the murder had been pictured to him: 'Yes, that's the way I killed mother.'"

Proceeds With Libel Charges Against Older and Crothers, in Spite of Statement He Would Dismiss Case.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The case of R. A. Crothers and Fremont Older of the Bulletin went to trial this morning in Superior Court Number 6, in which Judge Dooling of San Benito county is sitting for Judge Dunne, the regular judge of the department.

It was expected that Assistant District Attorney William Hoff Cook would renew his motion made a few days ago, to dismiss the case on the ground that he did not understand the motive for the bringing of the suit. At that time, E. P. E. Troy testified and caused considerable excitement by the statement that the case had been brought by him at the suggestion of Supervisor Murphy, who was the attorney and close personal friend of ex-Mayor Phelan, who has been one of the mainstays of the graft prosecution.

Langdon on Both Sides.

Since the last adjournment of court, H. L. Paokard, attorney for W. F. Tevis, has written several letters to Attorney General Webb, asking him to take cognizance of the fact that attaches of the District Attorney's office were taking part in both sides of the case, and requesting that that official take steps to prevent a continuance of such a condition of affairs.

No reference, however, was made to this correspondence when the case opened this morning by Judge Dooling. Assistant District Attorney Cook had a few words of whispered conversation with the court. He then walked to the jury box and commenced his opening address for the prosecution. Mr. Cook was the only attorney representing the state.

The defendants were represented by Attorneys Hiram Johnson, Sullivan, Roche, Cullinan and Hickey. Defendants Crothers and Older occupied seats beside their attorneys.

Cook's Statement.

"We expect to prove," said Mr. Cook, addressing the jury, "that the defendants, Crothers and Older, had charge of the Evening Bulletin published in this city, printed in the paper and caused to be published in the same paper on the 14th of January, 1908, three times on that day, an article to the effect that, on the testimony of A. Ruef an indictment was to be returned against W. F. Tevis.

"We expect to prove to you that when the publication was made malice was implied, and we also intend to show that there was also expressed malice.

"We shall prove that, on the 16th of

CHICAGO IN FEAR OF REIGN OF TERROR

Authorities Prepare to Take Extreme Measures Against Anarchists.

only know that he was a good boy and a good brother."

A conference of city officials was held at Chief Shippy's home this morning. Mayor Buse, Assistant Chief of Police Schaefer, Captain P. D. O'Brien of the detective bureau and Inspector Bacous attended. Means for dealing with manifestations of anarchy were discussed with the view of ridding the city of such activities.

The police measures are under the active direction of the assistant chief. The latter said that a young woman whose first name is "Rosalie" is being sought. Whether she is a sister or supposed sweetheart of Averbuch he refused to state, nor would he discuss the intentions of the police regarding the meeting of anarchists scheduled for Friday night at which Emma Goldman is advertised to speak.

Talked Anarchy.

According to attendants at Augustana Hospital, where Harry Shippy was taken yesterday, after having been shot by Averbuch, the young man passed a good night. His condition had improved slightly during the night and he was resting quite comfortably. He slept two hours during the early morning.

Joseph Freedman, 28 years old, was arrested on a Van Buren street car at State street this morning because he remarked to a fellow passenger:

"I see they tried to kill the chief. They ought to kill him and a lot more like him."

Emma Goldman Declares Slain Was Not Anarchist

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 3.—Emma Goldman, the anarchist, who lectured here last night, said this morning when informed of the identity of Chief Shippy's assailant:

"I never heard of Lazarus Averbuch, but I know that he is no anarchist. He is not a member of our society, and further than that no anarchist would attack a boy or girl. The son or daughter of Chief Shippy were in the room and the son was shot—no anarchist did that. The fact is the Chicago police have been so active and so bitter in digging up photos that they have got a faction of foreigners against them but they are not anarchists."

"The Chicago police," said Miss Goldman, "are absurd. Immediately after the assassination of Father Leo in Denver, they started the world with the discovery of a similar plot in Chicago. They are always discovering plots after it is all over."

"If Chief Shippy got into trouble with any faction it was his own fault, but I know that Averbuch was not an anarchist."

N. Y. Police Vigilant In Watching Anarchists

NEW YORK, March 3.—Greater precautions are being taken for the prevention of anarchist violence in this city, according to statements made today by Police Commissioner Bingham. These measures were adopted, the commissioner said, after letters of threatening nature had been received by Archbishop Farley and one of the deputy police commissioners.

Twenty additional men have been added to the detective bureau in the financial district and the closest watch is being maintained in all sections of the city.

Wu Ting Fang Off For Washington

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Wu Ting Fang, the new Chinese minister, left this morning at 9 o'clock for Washington. He was accompanied by his secretaries, the officials of his party and servants. The officers of the Six Companies accompanied him from the Fairmont Hotel to the ferry.

MAY DEPORT AVOWED "REDS"

CHICAGO, March 3.—The possibility of deporting avowed anarchists from the city was brought to the attention of United States District Attorney Sims today after it had been discussed by city officials gathered at Chief Shippy's home. The Federal official declared himself ready to take any steps warranted by evidence which may be presented to him, and added that the reconvening of the Federal grand jury this morning makes that body instantly available for any action that may be necessary to hasten possible cases.

BOY THREATENED WITH TAR AND FEATHERS, IS CLAIM

Associated With Young Negress, It Is Said, and Neighbors Order Him From the Vicinity.

A mob of twenty, living in the Loma Vista tract, Fitchburg, threatened to tar and feather Max Lang, a white boy of 19, who has been associating, it is claimed, with a negress, 14 years of age, unless he left the country. The angry crowd gathered around the home of the girl's parents at midnight, it is said, and demanded the appearance of Lang. The youth came on, and after a moment's parley, it is said, took the first San Leandro car for Oakland.

J. W. Mast, deputy constable for the Brooklyn township, living in the Harrington tract between Seminary and Baker avenues, says:

"The neighbors have been highly incensed at the behavior of Max Lang and could not bear his presence in the neighborhood any longer. As a consequence, a scheme was hatched up among twenty or so of the residents to tar and feather Lang if he did not leave the district."

"Max Lang," continued Mast, "has been associating with the negress for a long time. A short while ago she gave birth to a child. The couple want to get married, but the laws of California, I understand, will not allow a wedding between black and white."

"Her parents do not seem to object to the close intimacy. On the contrary I believe the young man has been roped in. 'The neighbors wish the negro family would get out and get out. Max Lang has got in trouble before. He embezzled $196.40 from his uncle, but the matter has been patched up.'"

TEVIS LIBEL SUIT

May, 1937, these defendants published the same article and that it contained large headlines to the effect that Tevis was to be indicted by Ruef's testimony.

"The article also stated that the charge would be proved by Ruef's testimony before the Grand Jury."

Name Scooped Out.

"We will prove that that article appeared in one of the editions of the Bulletin of that day and that in a later edition the name of 'Tevis' was scooped out of the electrolytic plate."

"We will show that Ruef never testified before the Grand Jury before September 9, 1937. We will also show that Ruef did not so testify before the Grand Jury, and that no indictment has been found against Tevis by the Grand Jury."

John A. Crothers, business manager of the Bulletin, testified as to the relation of the defendant with respect to the Bulletin. He identified the articles complained of as libelous as having been published in the paper in question. The witness, however, said he knew nothing about the scooping of Tevis' name from some of the later editions of the Bulletin on the day of the alleged publication.

He said it was customary to keep files of only the last edition of the paper.

Stereotype on Stand.

The articles complained of were introduced in evidence.

Stereotype Crowley, foreman of the stereotyping department of the Bulletin, told of his duties in that position.

The witness said that orders for any alterations in the plate would come to his department, but not necessarily to himself. He gave the names of other men in the same department to whom such orders might come. The witness could not say which of these men were at work on the 14th of January, 1938. He had no recollection of the removal of Tevis' name on the first page of the Bulletin on that day after it had appeared in an earlier edition.

In reply to a question by Judge Dooling, Crowley said that any changes made in the plate in his department would be made on order of the management.

Former Grand Juror Called.

F. G. Stanford, a member of the late grand jury, said that A. Ruef had appeared before that body a number of times, but that he really could not connect his appearances with the date. He remembered, however, that Ruef did not testify that no indictment had been on his first appearance before the jury. He could not recall that that question had been discussed by the jury in September, 1937.

Lawrence Buckley, deputy county clerk, testified that no indictment had been filed against W. S. Tevis. He was asked by Cook if any indictment had been found against A. Ruef in connection with the Bay Cities Water Company. This was objected to by the defendant.

It was then decided that witness would bring to court all indictments found against Ruef.

Admit Publication.

A. T. McFarland, foreman of the present grand jury, testified that that body was impaneled December 13, 1937. That jury had returned no indictment against Ruef.

George P. Dillon, foreman of the composing room of the Bulletin, said orders for display heads in the paper came from the city editor or Mr. Older. He could not tell who was city editor in May, 1937.

"Who gave you the copy?" asked Cook.

"We object," said Sullivan; "we admit the publication."

The court ordered the question to be answered.

"I don't know. It may have been the make-up editor," was the reply.

Cook then showed the witness a copy of the Bulletin and asked how the headlines were designed.

Admit Responsibility.

The witness said the words were written on paper. The style and size of the type would be indicated by a number.

"Who would designate these numbers?"

"It would be the city editor, the make-up editor or Mr. Older."

"Would Mr. Crothers have anything to do with it?"

"No."

Hiram Johnson then said: "It was Mr. Older who handed in the copy. It was he who dictated, revised and was responsible for it."

"You admit that," queried Cook.

"We do," said Johnson. "There is no denial for responsibility for the article. We admit and stand upon its truthfulness."

The witness could not recall any order to change the type in the Tevis article.

Hency Called; Absent.

Assistant District Attorney Hency was called but was not in court.

Cook said he wished to prove by the missing witness the date on which Ruef testified before the grand jury on the Bay Cities Water Company. He said he would at that time rest the case.

The jury was granted a recess and H. L. Packard, attorney for W. F. Tevis, was placed on the stand.

Packard told Judge Dooling he had not seen Mr. Tevis since the 20th of last month. At that time Tevis said he was going to Tucson, Arizona. It was several days later when the subpoena in the present case was issued. He does not know really where Tevis is, but thought he would locate him.

Packard was subjected to a number of questions by Attorney Sullivan for the defendant, and in response he repeated he did not know where Tevis was; that he had not seen him since the 20th of last month; that several days before that date the sheriff of San Francisco had called on him at Fresno and had told him he had a subpoena for Tevis; the latter, at the time, the witness was at Stockbridge, Mr. Tevis' home, four miles from Fresno. The witness could not recall whether on the 20th, when he next saw Tevis, he had told him anything about the subpoena having been issued for him to attend this trial.

Packard then promised he would do all he could to locate Tevis. He had, he said, promised the court to do that, and it was not necessary for the defense to work itself up on the matter.

"Some letters have been published in this matter," said Sullivan. "Do you know where they come from?"

Cook objected to this and Judge Dooling said he was not going to allow any outside matters to be brought into the case.

Packard then excused from the stand and as he was going, he said, in a voice loud enough to be heard throughout the court:

"The gentleman (meaning Sullivan), is right in his assumption. (Meaning that it was Packard, who had written the letters.)"

EVERHART RESIGNS CHAIR WHEN REPORT IS IGNORED

Roasts Street Committee for Turning Down Glenwood Park.

Councilman Everhart last night resigned as chairman of the committee on streets. The resignation was in written form and was referred by the members of the council to President Elliot, who was not in attendance at the meeting.

Everhart sent in his resignation following a wordy war concerning the advisability of permitting outlying districts to connect their sewers with the main sewers of the city of Oakland.

A petition before the council from residents in Glenwood Park to connect with the Oakland sewers was favored by Everhart, who said that as chairman of the street committee he had investigated the case and was of the opinion that the request of the people should be granted. Other members of the committee took the stand that it would be time to connect the Glenwood Park sewers with Oakland when that district annexed to Oakland. There was also a question in the minds of a number of councilmen as to the merits of the request from Glenwood Park. It was at this juncture that Everhart resigned in a huff.

Demands Confidence.

"If I do not enjoy the confidence of my fellow councilmen," he said, "I will resign as chairman of that committee. I have made my investigations of the case before us and favor the petition. I have personally investigated the affair and have submitted a favorable report. I should have the confidence of other councilmen. As a rule a favorable report on public matters from the chairman of a committee having power to act is recognized. It is apparent that my favorable report carries no weight."

Everhart then wrote his resignation. At the last meeting of the council committee Everhart left the council chamber in a hurry, saying "I'm going to sit with a drunkard."

The beginning of last night's regular meeting he seemed good terms with the other councilmen. Now, however, he has been referred to the committee meeting could be uncovered.

Medical Profession Interested in External Wash Which is Producing Remarkable Results.

Instant relief and permanent cures have so invariably followed the use of an American prescription for the cure of skin diseases that European doctors, always zealous to lead in fields of medical knowledge, are still directing inquiries as to the ingredients of this external vegetable remedy.

The makers of the prescription, the D. D. D. Company of Chicago, are so frank as to say that European inquiries that this Eucema remedy is simply oil of wintergreen compounded with other vegetable ingredients of known healing power, such as thymol and glycerine.

Apparently no case of no matter how long standing can stand against this simple remedy known as D. D. D. Prescription. Here is a typical letter from Mrs. R. Payne of East Pittsburgh, Pa. "I had a horrible breaking out on my legs and feet, and tried to rub all medicines and ointments without result. The first bottle of D. D. D. helped me and I secured a complete cure. This was two years ago and I have had no trouble since."

We have investigated the merits of D. D. D. Prescription and believe it to be the best and quickest cure for skin diseases. At any rate, we positively know that it takes away the itch just as soon as you apply a few drops of the soothing liquid. Call for free booklet on care and nutrition of the skin and ask for a cake of D. D. D. Soap.

DISTRIBUTING GARBAGE CANS AT COST

One Thousand Cans in Two Sizes to Be Allotted to the Public at No Profit—Many Given Out Today.

Nearly 200 garbage cans were distributed to as many individuals yesterday by the Busey & Reed Furniture Co.

They have contracted for several car loads of cans upon which they have stamped "Busey and Reed—Furniture" as an advertisement, and which they are distributing at cost to the public.

These cans were especially made for Busey & Reed to fit the requirements of the Health officials and meet every suggestion officially made.—The covers fit over the top, instead of inside, and the bottom is arranged so that the air passes under and around the can. The handles are made of heavy strap iron and the cans are unusually heavy.

Mr. Reed in his talk with the representative of THE TRIBUNE said: "We feel that it is the duty of every one to do all they can to assist the health officials in their efforts to clean up the city.—At first we thought of giving away rat traps to all our customers, but concluded that garbage cans were so badly needed that we would endeavor to supply them. They were too cheap to give away, so we concluded to sell them at exact cost. In so much as we are selling them at cost we deemed it our right to stencill our name upon each can which in no way hurts the can and which indirectly pays us for our loss in handling them, delivering and advertising them.—We figure to distribute about one thousand cans and if we do so believe we have done considerable in the interests of the city. The large size seems to be the most popular. We are selling them for $1.95 each and expect to give out at least eight hundred of these alone. Our wagons will distribute them anywhere within reason."

This morning a steady stream of people called at the store for cans and invariably expressed an interest in their efforts to clean up their back yards. One gentleman expressed himself quite enthusiastically when asked what he thought of Busey & Reed's enterprising idea. "Tell you what," he said, "there is the practical way of encouraging a man to fix his place up. When you are told to buy rat traps and garbage cans and poison, etc., and find the merchants holding up the price, it makes you hot. I just paid 75c for a rat trap that some enter

'DIVORCONS' IS NOT NAUGHTY, ONLY INTERESTING

Grace George and Company Win Plaudits in Drama of Society Life.

(BY BETTY MARTIN.)

The audience which greeted Grace George last evening in her opening performance of "Divorcons" at the Macdonough was not particularly large as to number, but of appreciation there was no lack.

Sardon's "Divorcons," as adapted by Margaret Mayo, and interpreted by Grace George and her company, is one of the most amusing and brightest plays on the stage today. Small wonder that the charming star and her support captured staid London and the quiet East; or that her Western trip has been one triumphant march. There isn't a dull thing in "Divorcons," nor a stupid member in the cast. The opening lines in the play give the key to the whole situation, which is not an uncommon one—based on the conclusion that marriage is a state where those who are in want to get out, while those who are out are eager to get in.

Weds Young Girl.

Cyprienne, otherwise Mme. des Prunelles, has a husband considerably older than herself. M. Henri Des Prunelles, having seen pretty much all there is to be seen of this world, married, as is the custom of men the world over, in order to have a quiet corner all his own. And, following again a time-honored custom, he chose for a partner, not a woman near his own age and experience, but a young, pretty creature whom he confidently expected would gladly go with him hand in hand down the vale of tears. But Cyprienne proved to have incalculable talents toward the gay world upon which Henri, having tasted the fruits thereof, and eaten until he was surfeited—had resolutely turned his back.

When the play opens Cyprienne is deep in a flirtation with her husband's cousin, Adhemar Gratins, a French officer—young, rather impetuous, and good looking. Cyprienne and her husband are both anxious for a divorce, which they hope to obtain as soon as the new divorce bill is passed by the French parliament. But Henri, with that perversity usually attributed to the older sex, wishes to frustrate Adhemar in his love making.

Plot Thickens.

Adhemar, in his anxiety to further the affair, forges a telegram announce-

OLYMPIA DUVAL, PRETTY TRAINER OF PONIES AND DOGS.

PONIES AND DOGS ARE ALL WONDERS

New Departure in Training of Animals That Pleases Large Audiences.

Olympia Duval's trained ponies and dogs are making a big hit at the Oakland Orpheum. Miss Duval is a German girl who has a reputation in Europe. It is said, as an equestrian queen. In America her name is not so well known, but it is likely to be after a few months of such work as she does on the Orpheum stage. Her ponies are equine wonders and her dogs are perhaps the most intelligent and best-trained than any ever before shown on the Orpheum stage. The stunts these animals perform are so surprising that they shake the rafters, and Miss Duval is enabled to remain with some complacency the result of her initial appearance on American soil. She was brought to this country from Germany by the Orpheum Circuit Company.

Music's Charms.

Music is always an acceptable feature of a vaudeville program when rendered by skilled artists, and usually only those of these class are given a place in the programs of the Orpheum theaters. The Meloni trio certainly comes under this heading, and with their singing and playing they captivate the crowds in the Twelfth street theater. They are dressed as street troubadours, picturesque in appearance, but exceptionally talented as musicians.

The Montrose troupe of acrobats create a sensation. There are six of the Montrose men, each of them a marvel as an athlete.

Rapid Fire Fun.

Carroll and Cook, rapid fire comedians, have a big budget of witty jests, and some novel stage stuff.

Callette, the human dragon, gives a picturesque performance. He is a wonderful contortionist.

Polly Pickles' Pops in Petaland, the big pantomime spectacle, Eleanor Falke, the dainty singing comedienne, and Feteche Brothers, the German musical artists, with some new motion pictures, round out the splendid program.

Wise, Wise, singing a notable success. Bowen Brothers, "The College Boys," help some with their singing, but score better with their dancing, which has above the average.

Nello, the juggler, performs unusual and remarkable tricks. His act is doubly good because his tricks are original.

The two reels of motion pictures are up to the high standard usually maintained at the Bell.

THE NOVELTY

Crowded houses packed both performances at the Novelty Theater last night to see the new bill. The "A Mutt" sketch which created such a furore was well received and is in many ways a novelty.

Wentworth and Butterworth in the act "Coming Around the Horn, Boys," were well received. Axel, the "hobo," made a hit in his monologue on the life of the broke-beam tourist. He also had some well-trained dogs with him. The motion pictures were novel and interesting. The bill will be given for the rest of the week.

THE COLUMBIA

The "Black Hand" as rendered by the Columbia Stock Company was a good interpretation of the methods pursued by the Mafia and other obnoxious Italian bands.

Max Steiner appeared to advantage in the character of Jimmie Nipper. His strong forte, however, are German roles. Al H. Hallett played Giovanni Conti, an Italian organ grinder, and a difficult "heavy" part, exceptionally well. The other members of the company were well cast, particularly Miss Virginia Thornton as Rita, a poor orphan and street singer. She showed by her characterization of the role last night that she is a versatile actress of some ability.

The comedy-drama will no doubt play to crowded houses the balance of the week.

YE LIBERTY

The opening performance of "The Boys of Company B," Rida Johnson Young's delightful comedy, will be given in Ye Liberty Playhouse this evening. The occasion will be one of note in theatrical affairs, for it will be Miss Marian Barney's first appearance with the Bishop players. Miss Barney is an Oakland girl who has returned to play before her old friends after winning success in the largest companies of the country. She is a beautiful and talented young actress. Society will be out to welcome her this evening. The theater will be packed in her honor.

The cast will be a particularly strong one and the comedy cannot fail to please. The play is one of the most conspicuous of recent New York successes.

Spain Fears Outrage On King and Queen

MADRID, March 3.—Considerable concern is being felt in this city for the safety of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria on their approaching visit to Barcelona, which has been set for March 12. The newspapers regard the trip as imprudent in view of the agitation created by the many bomb outrages in that city and blame Premier Maura for not finding a pretext for cancelling the proposed journey.

THE BELL

From the time that Miss Minnie Middleton and her heavy of beauties came upon the stage of the Bell Theater and offer sweet melody until the curtain falls after Gray and Graham have created roars of laughter, the show is decidedly entertaining. Gray and Graham have about the best musical comedy creation the Bell has ever offered its patrons. They are thorough musicians, and, in addition, the man of the duo is a real comedian.

Miss Middleton is easily the star of the troupe of military girls, and she has a wonderfully sweet and well-trained voice. The voices of all blend prettily and their rendition of popular and operatic selections proved a hit. Elaborate costumes and attractiveness to the act. Tracy and Carter, character and comedy change artists, offer a unique singing and talking act. Miss Tracey's rendition of the song "Because She's Wise,"

BERKELEY TO BURY GARBAGE ON ITS WATERFRONT

Trustees Have New Plan for Disposing of Refuse and Avoid Trouble.

BERKELEY, March 3.—The Town Trustees have reached, they believe, a temporary solution of the garbage question. They propose to bury it in the tide flats along the water front and the first of the interim process began this morning when the scavengers dumped their wagon loads, which have been loaded since Saturday morning, on overflow property belonging to Fred W. Foss, a lumberman. At the same time a big suction pump, engaged in filling a bulkhead for Foss, undertook to cover up the refuse by pumping sand and gravel over it.

The trustees are careful to say that this expedient is only experimental. They held an executive session last night until after midnight, a greater portion of the time being devoted to hearing the remonstrances of the scavengers and property owners.

Thinks Good Plan.

Afterwards Dr. C. H. Merriam of the State University was consulted as to the danger of infection from the interim plan. Dr. Merriam said that he believed it could be carried out without injury to the neighborhood along the water front, provided that the scavengers buried the garbage deep enough.

Town Trustee Schmidt offered the use of twenty-two acres of land west of the shore end of Gilman street as a "graveyard." Foss offered the use of his pump and land adjoining his new wharf he is building at the foot of Delaware street. Both propositions were tentatively accepted.

In the meantime the trustees announce that at their regular meeting this evening plans will be laid for a special bond election to erect a crematory.

CITY PUTTING ON BEST DRESS FOR THE JACKIES

S. P. and Key Route Will Carry Sailors Free.

BERKELEY, March 3.—A committee of architects composed of John Galen Howard, Byron Maybrook, W. E. Ratcliff and George Plowman has been selected to decide a suitable plan of decorating Berkeley for the coming of the fleet, and the town is planning to entertain on an extensive scale.

These architects, in conjunction with Charles Keeler, the poet, expect to devise something new and unique in the way of city dressing. Their efforts will be devoted principally to Shattuck avenue, between Alston way and University avenue. Masts, arches and evergreen designs will be features.

Walter E. Woolsey, chairman of the transportation committee, announced last night that the Southern Pacific and Key Route will carry the jackies to and from Berkeley free on the day of the carnival. Woolsey said that the two roads are planning to take care of 50,000 people. Twelve extra trains an hour will be operated in connection with extra ferries.

"The railway people believe they will be called upon to transport the greatest number of people in the history of Berkeley," said Woolsey. They will make up for free transportation of the jackies in extra fares from excursionists.

Subscriptions to the finance committee are coming in rapidly. Chairman Spear says he believes that by the end of the week sufficient money will be on hand to take care of all emergency calls.

Good for Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent oculist, in the Delbert building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders, in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system. Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter as a blood purifier. It is unequalled. See at Osgood Brothers' drug store."

A. B. CHASE PLAYER PIANO

---Here is the only player-piano that operates the piano action direct.

The A. B. Chase player-piano mechanism actuates the hammers upon the strings in precisely the same manner as the keys do when struck by the fingers in playing by hand, thus preserving the delicacy of technique which distinguishes manual from mechanical playing.

The musician has no feeling that he is operating a mere machine but is, instead, amazed at the ease with which his musical sensibilities may be thrown into the composition before him.

It is easy to understand how the keys of a piano may be struck mechanically, but to realize how the soul of music, the delicate shadings of touch or tempo can be accomplished one must see and hear and play the A. B. Chase Player-Piano.

Sold for cash or terms or on fair exchange for other similar instruments or old pianos.

PRIZEFIGHT SMOKE SHOCKS OLD PROFESSORS

Celebrities of Squared Circle Will Entertain Students.

BERKELEY, March 3.—A mild sensation went up and down the spines of the faculty of the university this morning when posters announcing such pugilistic stars as Jimmie Britt, Mike (Twin) Sullivan and Abe Attell as attractions for a smoker to be given by the Polytechnic Club at a local skating rink on the evening of March 11 were posted. There three round bouts, according to the poster, will be pulled off under the leadership of Sam Berger.

Jimmy Britt is to fight Frank Raphael, Mike Twin is matched against Jack Sullivan, and Abe Attell will go up against Monte Attell. Other features announced are wrestling bouts between some of the big men of the Olympic Club.

The students grinned broadly when they read the handbills plastered in prominent places. There was a more grinning when the Daily Californian appeared with the prize fight as the leading story in its columns. The college paper declared that the entertainment would be the "classiest affair" ever held by any student organization. The officers of the Polytechnic Club were absent from their customary haunts, possibly to avoid any curious questioning from the members of the faculty, but they had the satisfaction of giving the university a choice morsel of gossip.

A man's judgment enables him to do some things almost as well as a woman can do them without any.

SORORITIES AND FRATERNITIES JOIN TO MAKE BERKELEY ASSEMBLY BIG SUCCESS

HAROLD PLUMMER.

Wish to Honor Mrs. Hearst at Ball.

BERKELEY, March 3.—Every fraternity and sorority in the University has joined hands to make the coming University assembly an unusual success, as a mark of respect and testimonial to Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, who founded the function eight years ago. The list of patronesses will be announced during the week and will include the leading society women of Oakland and Berkeley. The fact that this is the first time that the assembly will be given in Berkeley lends additional interest and spur to the activities of the students. The coming in charge of the arrangements will meet this evening to decide on details of decorations and complete the list of invitations.

'APPOINT' DOG RAT-CATCHERS

ALAMEDA, March 3.—Each firehouse in the city is to have a dog which must be guaranteed to be a rat catcher. Last night the council decided that a dog would be secured for each fire house and that the animal be given a license.

There was no objection to the motion and Veterinary Carpenter is to choose the dogs. He has been instructed that Great Danes and Newfoundlanders will not be satisfactory as rat catchers.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Drug, Poslam, Now Obtainable in Small Quantities.

Since its discovery one year ago, the new drug, poslam, has successfully cured thousands of chronic cases of eczema and other distressing skin afflictions. Heretofore poslam has been dispensed solely for the benefit of eczema patients in large jars sufficient for a month's treatment. This was found to be an inconvenience to many thousands who use it for minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., which require but a small quantity to cure. To overcome this and in response to urgent appeals, the dispensers of poslam have been obliged to adopt, in addition to the regular two-dollar package, a special fifty-cent size, which in future may be found on sale at the Owl Drug Co. and other leading druggists, or may be ordered direct from the Emeryville Laboratories, No. 22 West 25th street, New York City. In all eczema cases poslam stops itching with first application and proceeds to heal immediately, chronic cases being cured in two weeks. In less serious skin troubles, results are seen after an overnight application.

Samples for experimental purposes may still be had, free of charge, by writing to the laboratories for them.

ASKS WOMEN TO "DIG UP" FOR SANITARY CRUSADE

Berkeley Fair Sex Line Up to Fight Rats.

BERKELEY, March 3.—At a mass-meeting of the women of Berkeley in the Hillside Club last evening, a resolution was adopted that an organization be organized to enter the field for improved sanitary conditions to work in connection with the committees for the object appointed by the citizens and the Sigma Xi Society. Mrs. Moody, wife of Professor R. O. Moody, of the State University, was named president, and Mrs. Elmer Carlisle, secretary. In addition to assisting in the movement for improving the new society will endeavor to raise funds.

Mrs. James K. Orr presided at the meeting, which was attended by over four hundred of the leading society women of the college town. Mrs. Carlisle called the gathering to order.

W. R. Knapp of the health and quarantine committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in his address, scored the trustees for their tardiness in reaching a satisfactory solution of the garbage question.

"I want you ladies right now," said Knapp, "that the trustees profess to be unable to find money to carry this sanitary work along and you will probably be called upon to contribute, as the business men and the college professors have done, from your own pockets."

Dr. W. F. Ruckey, as the personal representative of Dr. Rupert Blue, also spoke.

TWO PIONEER WOMEN OF ALAMEDA DIE SAME DAY

Mrs. Mary Howe, 92 Years Old, a Forty-niner.

ALAMEDA, March 3.—Mrs. Mary Howe, ninety-two years old, who came to California in 1848, died yesterday afternoon at home of her daughter, Mrs. John Walker, 1520 Benton street.

For twenty-two years, Mrs. Howe was a resident of this city and prominent in Congregational church affairs. Her husband died over thirty-five years ago, in San Francisco, and was a well known commission merchant. Mrs. Howe was the oldest member of the First Congregational Church of San Francisco.

Four children survive her: Mrs. Walker of this city; Mrs. Mary Botes of New York; William Howe of San Francisco and Frank Howe of Oakland.

Mrs. Fannie C. Johnson, a resident of this city at the west end for over thirty years, died yesterday afternoon. She was sixty-two years of age and is survived by a daughter, Miss Leonie Johnson. She was a native of Germany.

SPECIAL ELECTION ON PARKS MAY BE CALLED

Alameda Council Passes Resolution Which Will Put Referendum Into Use.

ALAMEDA, March 3.—A resolution calling for a special election at which the voters can express their desire in the selection of parks and playgrounds was introduced at the meeting of the Council last night by Councilman M. Brown. The resolution calls for submitting to a vote two propositions: the purchase of the Dunn and the Taylor tracts or the Thompson, Wayne and either the Hays or Taylor tracts.

The resolution came as a surprise to some of the councilmen, and when it came to a vote Councilman Christensen was unable to express an opinion. The other councilmen voted for the passage of the resolution.

Just what effect the resolution will have on the filing of the referendum petitions to submit the question to a vote of the citizens is as yet not certain. City Attorney Simpson is to delve into the legal status of the case.

Much Discussion.

There was considerable discussion among the councilmen as to the need of the referendum petitions.

Council President Loop made a statement that two weeks before Councilman Bullock received an offer from James Dunn to sell his property at $55,000, that he (Loop) had informed two members of the Board of Education that the land could be secured at a reduced price, and that the five councilmen who wanted to purchase the Dunn tract knew they would get it at a reduced rate. The discussion closed with Loop's statement.

It was decided that the Council would confer with the Berkeley trustees to find what action was being taken to secure for Berkeley a separate supervisory district. The councilmen believe that Alameda should be one district and have one supervisor and are going to start an agitation for the movement.

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Wilson says: "One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the provenance of certain harmful drugs in order that the law requires that the amount of chloroform, opium, morphine and other habit forming drugs be reduced on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in general use. For sale by Osgood Drug Stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington sts."

CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE

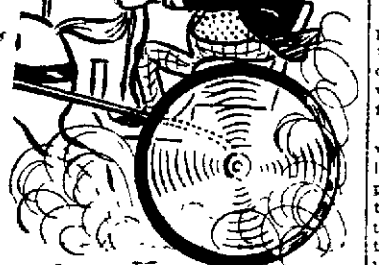

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Sufferer Had Doctored for Years in Vain.

The tonic treatment for indigestion is having remarkable success in curing obstinate cases of that distressing malady and deserves attention from every sufferer. Its principle is that remedies for indigestion that digest the food for the stomach give relief for only a short time. Ultimately they irritate the stomach to do its own proper work, because they make its already weak power still weaker by abuse, while the remedy that strengthens the stomach makes it more and more capable of digesting the food for itself and this benefit lasts. A remedy that is a tonic not only for the stomach but for the blood and nerves as well, invigorates the entire system and makes recovery from the weakening effects of indigestion rapid and thorough.

Miss Cynthia Hart, of 418 East Mulberry street, Lebanon, Ohio, says: "I was a sufferer from stomach trouble for several years and found no relief in doctors or other medicines. My appetite was gone, I was troubled constantly by headaches and dizzy spells and was so nervous that I was annoyed and worried by any little noise. It was almost impossible to sleep at night and I was easily tired out. The least bit of work made me short of breath. I lost in weight and was so run down that I knew I must soon find some help or give up."

"While undecided what to do I ran across a newspaper containing a case like mine cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and at once bought a box. There was soon such a decided improvement that I continued taking the pills and was entirely cured. The best proof of this is that I have been well ever since. I cannot recommend the pills too highly."

Sufferers from dyspepsia in any form who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using ordinary remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all druggists or direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c per box; six boxes, $2.50. A diet book sent free on request to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Mrs. B. J. Lawel, 1377 Park avenue, Alameda, Cal., says: "When I began the use of Doan's Kidney Pills I had been suffering with kidney trouble for a long time. The most annoying symptom of my complaint was a disordered condition of my kidneys. The kidney secretions were unnatural in appearance, and at times scanty. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and after using them but a short time the troubles entirely disappeared, the kidney secretions became clear and I was better in every way."

WOMEN FLAY ROOSEVELT FOR URGING BOY SOLDIERY

Want 'Love,' Not 'War,' Taught Children

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Woman's Peace Circle continues its crusade against the introduction of rifle practice for the school boys. At a meeting yesterday several women denounced President Roosevelt for his support of rifle shooting for boys and said that the practice was a menace to the country, as it did much to make the boys desire war.

was when the school should teach them love of peace.

Boys clubs connected with churches and the teaching therein of military drill came in for their share of the denunciation of the speakers, some of whom also objected to allowing little children to play with toy soldiers on the theory that such play things tended to inculcate in the children a love of war.

Wants Divorce, as His Wife Is White

LIMA, Ohio, March 3.—"Reciting that he has learned that his wife, who he asserts, told him that she was a negro, is white, Henry Edwards, a well-to-do negro business man of this city, yesterday began divorce action in the Common Pleas court. His petition recited that he married his wife in Lexington, Ky., after a lengthy courtship, and that she told him she had negro blood in her veins and never by any hint let him suspect that she was of another race than himself. For this alleged deception he insists he is entitled to freedom. They were married five months ago.

The Call Pole-Catting for Spreckels.

The San Francisco Call's malevolent and scurrilous attacks on THE TRIBUNE and its manager are worthy of mention for one reason only. They reflect the temper, character and methods of Rudolph Spreckels. The venom, falsehood and coarse brutality which distinguish them reflect his mind and his gauge of decency.

The Call is the property, nominally, of John D. Spreckels, but for more than a year past Rudolph Spreckels has ruled its columns and dictated its policy. Under his direction the paper has been a part of the private prosecution he is conducting in conjunction with James D. Phelan in San Francisco. Its task has been a little lower than that of Detective Burns and a trifle higher than that of Big Jim Gallagher. It is merely a journalistic polecat maintained to be-foul persons who fall under the ban of Rudolph Spreckels. That it should claim to be an exponent of political purity and a foe to graft and trust extortion merely emphasizes its effrontery and shameless mendacity. The Spreckels fortunes were built up on what is popularly denominated graft—profits obtained by sharp practice and treachery and not legitimately earned. The name of Spreckels is synonymous with unscrupulous financial methods and exploitation of the public for financial gain. Beside the Spreckels vendettas and private prosecution the Call represents several other things.

It is the organ of the sugar trust which has levied blackmail on the people of the United States for more than a quarter of a century. Plantation slavery in Hawaii and ruthless crushing out of competition were parts of the Spreckels scheme of amassing enormous wealth.

The Oceanic Steamship swindle by which thousands were plundered is another infamy for which the Call stands. Dividends were paid with borrowed money till the stock was run up to $105 a share. Then the stock was unloaded on the public. It is not even quoted on the market today, but the Spreckels have retained control of the line by virtue of their mortgage.

Another example of Spreckels financial piracy was the Independent Lighting and Power job. Declaring they were going to free San Francisco from the old gas monopoly, the Spreckels outfit obtained a franchise from the Phelan administration and constructed a rival system. When the old company was nearly wrecked by cut-throat competition, the Spreckels effected a consolidation by which they gained millions and the lighting plant of San Francisco overloaded with capitalization. Recent events indicate that the graft prosecution was used in an effort to again wreck the company that the Spreckels family and Phelan might get possession of it at a nominal figure to the ruin of others having capital invested in it.

The Spreckels also organized the Valley Railroad project, and obtained gifts of valuable depot sites, terminal facilities and rights of way on the representation that the road was to remain an independent California concern. When there was nothing left to bunco the people of the State out of, the Valley Railroad was sold to the Santa Fe. James D. Phelan participated in this job.

The tale of financial freebooting might be indefinitely extended, but what is here stated is sufficient to give a clear idea of the Spreckels standard of morality. The effort to gain from the dis-solute King Kalakaua a monopoly of the opium trade in the Hawaiian Islands is another example of endeavor to get dirty money without scruple or decency. The high sense of honor of the gang is illustrated by the charges and counter-charges hurled back and forth during family quarrels over a division of the plunder.

As an example of civic reform Rudolph Spreckels revealed his character and purposes when he took the hoodling Supervisors, under the cover of night, to the Federal reservation at the Presidio and there made a deal by which the band of official plunderers were given full immunity for their crimes on condition that they give un-terminating testimony against certain corporation managers Spreckels and Phelan were trying to destroy. This unholy compact was sealed in darkness and bound with an oath of secrecy. The immunity contract given Ruef in secret, and repeatedly denied, was of the same character.

But the efforts to suppress the truth and railroad men to prison before the facts could be ascertained failed, and Rudolph Spreckels, the civic reformer, stands revealed as Rudolph Spreckels, the financial wrecker, prostituting the machinery of justice and defiling the courts to vicious and predatory ends. The stinking of the Call is merely a display of the baffled rage and malice of its master.

Anarchistic Invasion.

Now that the first wave of horror and anger has passed over the killing of a priest engaged in his sacred calling on the altar it is well to thoroughly look into the elemental basis of the crime. The assassin chose his victim merely because the latter was a priest and that he hated all priests. The pertinent part of it, however, is that the assassin was a newly arrived immigrant. If his story is true, and there seems to be plenty of verification, he had no right to be received in this country under the law.

After the killing of President McKinley in 1903 Congress passed an act listing anarchists among the classes of aliens to be excluded from this country. The reports of the Bureau of Immigration for 1904, 1905 and 1906 only show the exclusion of one immigrant anarchist. He came from southern Italy and was stopped on the Mexican border.

The new immigration act approved a year ago says in part: "No person who disbelieves in or who is opposed to all organized government or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization teaching such disbelief in or opposition to all organized government or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, shall be permitted to enter the United States or any territory or place subject to the jurisdiction thereof."

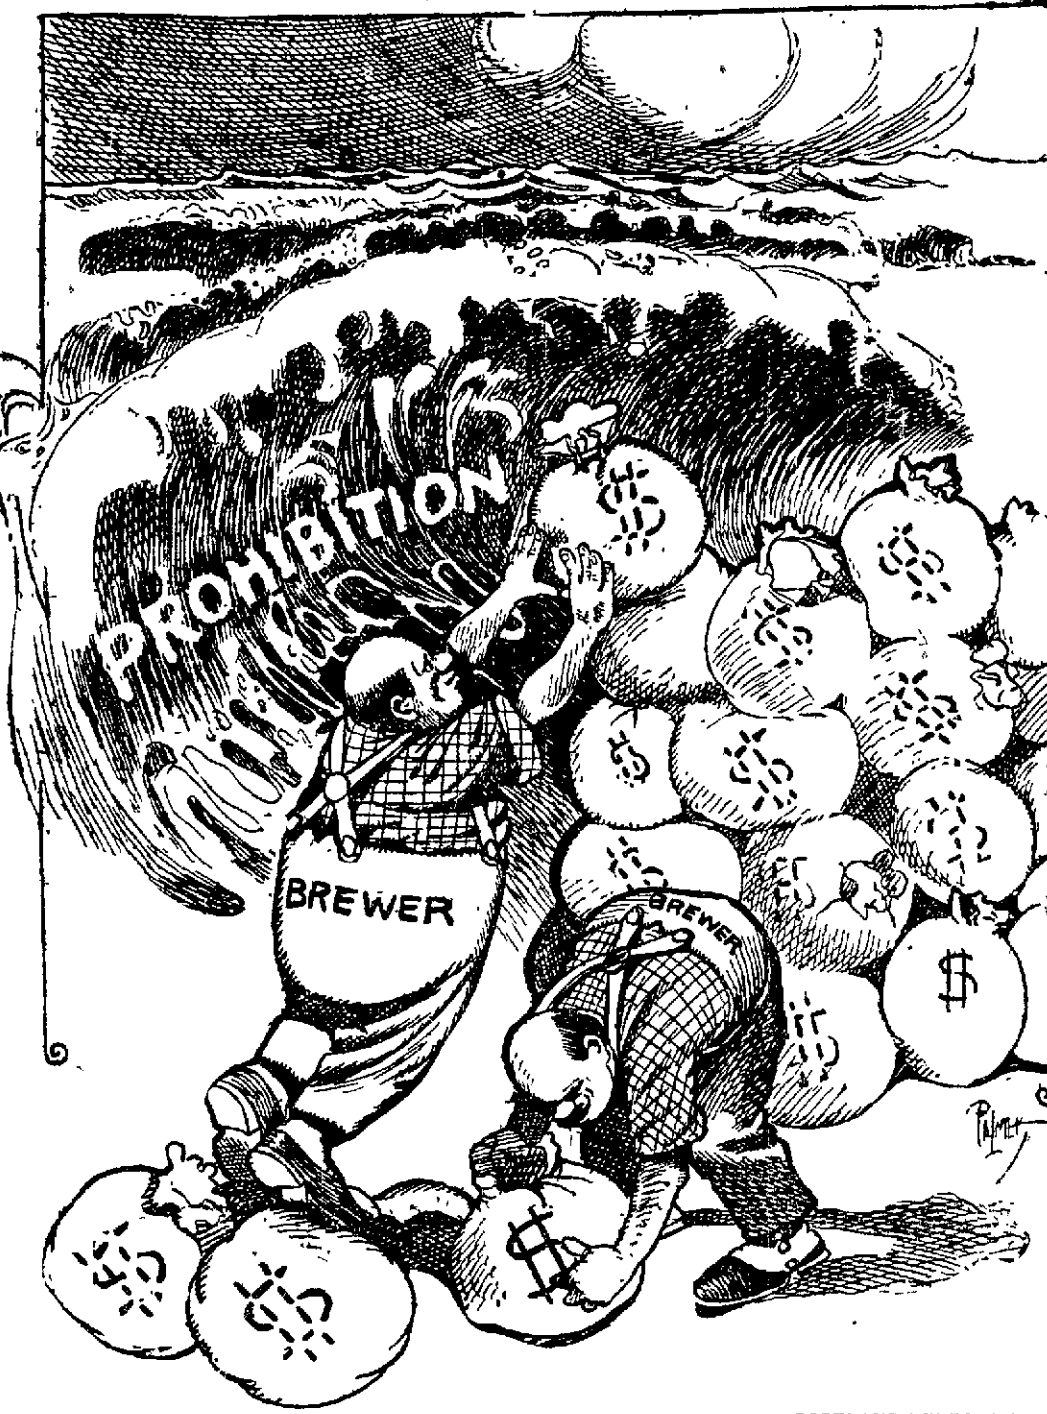

It is up to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to secure an effective enforcement of this law.

When they slipped William J. Bryan off at Buffalo the other day some of the wagful inhabitants of the Falls City began to sing "Put Me Off at Buffalo." Bryan got even by making ten speeches in that town in one day.

United States Must Be Second Naval Power.

The position assumed by Senator George C. Perkins of California in his speech in the Senate last Friday, to the effect that it should be the policy of this government to maintain a navy second in power only to that of Great Britain, will meet with the approval of the American people, in our opinion. At the present time the United States navy occupies such a position. The maintenance of its efficiency in its present relative position among the world's navies means that this government will watch the doings of other powers and adjust its naval expenditures to theirs. Such a course is progressive and wise, if not actually necessary.

The reasons advanced by Senator Perkins for the continuation of the policy that has built up a great American navy are unanswerable. Some of the benefits arising from the expenditures for a navy will be better understood, now that he has made them so plain. At least 95 per cent of the cost of a battleship, for example, goes to labor. From the moment the miner strikes his pick in the mine until the battleship goes into commission, the money expended upon it goes to labor. This is American labor, and the money remains in the United States, going directly into the pockets of the working people. The effect of naval construction on the growth of the steel industry has been marvelous. In 1880, before American steel was called for in constructing vessels of war, there were 140,000 wage-earners in the iron and steel trades, earning $55,000,000 in wages and turning out products worth $298,500,000. The demand for the best kind of steel enabled manufacturers to build plants, cheapen and perfect processes, and extend their business. Cheap steel rails followed, and then structural steel for buildings and bridges. In 1905 the number of wage-earners in the iron and steel trades had increased to 857,000, earning $452,000,000 and turning out products worth $2,176,700,000. Wages advanced from $400 to $500, or 40 per cent. "The wages of the iron and steel workers for one year will more than pay the total cost, when ready for sea, of all the vessels of the new navy built, under construction, or authorized from 1883 up to the present time," was Senator Perkins' summing up of this astonishing progress.

The United States navy was shown by the California Senator to be a stimulant of patriotism, an agent of peace and friendly intercourse with foreign governments, and a necessary means of defense, as well as a powerful aid in building up American industries. His presentation of the case was admirable, and well worthy the attention of those who falter in their faith in the glorious future of this country. As a far-seeing legislator, Senator Perkins advocates the maintenance of a navy commensurate with the present greatness of this nation, and new construction to keep pace with its marvelous growth.—Editorial, Washington (D. C.) Post, February 27.

THE NO HORSE CHAISE

(By T. B. THAYER.)

The sun was setting o'er the bay
As Deacon Jones and Miss J.
Sped forth upon their auto new
To see what stunts the thing would do
Says Miss J. to Deacon Jones
"You steer the rig, I'll watch for stones."
Quoth Mr. Jones to Miss J.
"Lord help the thing that's in the way."

Zip, bang and buff, that motor flew
From out the garage through the den
Out through the gate and down the grade
Full thirty knots that carriage made
I held the wheel, from side to side
That wreckage lurched while Miss J. cried:
"Slow down, dear J., I've lost my breath!"
"Nay, nay," said J., "not short of death!"

He missed the gate by scarce a hair,
Gored two old cows, killed dogs, a pair,
Tore down a fence and maimed a kid,
And several other things he did
He broke a bridge by his abuse
And chased a neighbor up the road
And Sister Smith lost all her nerve
As Deacon Jones swung round the curve
She took one look and waddled fast
And scaled a tree ere Jones flew past.

He made the turn at Haskins' place
On one hind wheel; nor slowed his pace,
While Miss J. with all her might
Clung to the rig though dead with fright
Jones jumped a ditch, glanced from a stump,
Sailed through a yard and wheeled a pump.

Tore up a patch of corn and spuds
And cleaned a clothes line of its studs
Chased through a field a harmless bun,
Then took the road, still going some
Ere 'tis the wig of Mr. J.
Had taken wings and flown away,
And back half pins and lace—'twas
Of Mr. J.'s, marked out the trail:
"Hoak hoak!" that Devil wagon roared,
Turned on its side then quickly veered,
And missed a sponsor heeling peas
Who made the porch on hands and knees
"Hr, ha," laughed Jones, "She got away,
One less indictment, Mrs. J."

And now, through lawn and flower bed
Owned by the parson, the Joneses sped.
Jones failed to shut the engine down
Till, with one wild, frantic bound,
That motor, like a startled loon,
Made anchor in the sitting room
The hail girl made a quick "skiddoo,"
While "Bridget" through the window flew
The parson stayed too scared to flit
Ten feet from where the Deacon lit

"Why this unseemly act, I pray?"
"Aw, cut it out," says Deacon J.
"For sixty years I've lived without
A touring car or runabout.
Henceforth I'll pin my faith to mules.
These 'chug, chug' cars were made for fools
Oh, thank the Lord, we're sound of bone
Come, Mrs. J., we'll hike it home."

How the Box Trust

Compels Fruit Growers

to Pay High for Boxes

It is well known that the fruit growers of California are in the clutches of a box trust which compels them to pay high prices for box material.

In explanation of a suit recently begun by an agent of the trust, otherwise known as the California Pine Box and Lumber Company, George A. Pratt of the California Box and Door Company, an independent concern, writes a communication to the Yieka Journal. He says the claim is based upon an alleged loss on box stock which the trust shipped to the East in order to keep the stuff from going to the box users of this State at a lower price than that fixed for them by the trust. Pratt further says that as his company had no part in creating the reputed loss it refused to pay the state claim, which is two years old. He declares that the suit is brought in the name of a clerk employed by the trust in order to conceal the hand of the monopoly, and that the real object is to drive the independent company out of business.

If these statements be true, they go to show that trust methods are pretty much the same everywhere. The Standard Oil Company has no monopoly of meanness in dealing with would-be competitors.

According to Mr. Pratt's statements, his company was coerced into signing an agreement to turn over its entire output to the trust for a term of years but, being informed by its attorney that the trust was an unlawful combination, the California Box and Door Company withdrew from the agreement, he says.

We have the Cartwright and Anti-Trust laws in this State. But what are the fruit growers and the attorneys-general doing to relieve California from the malice of the box trust and other trusts?—Sacramento Bee.

compact organization. It is said that they have even threatened to resort to bribery by promising those who refuse to join the organization a higher price for their eggs than the San Francisco market price if the Sonoma County Co-operative Poultry Association starts its store as projected. The San Francisco middle men have reaped so rich a harvest in the past by the disorganized competition among poultry farmers, which tended to keep the price of eggs down to bedrock, that they are now loath to give up this great and lucrative advantage. Our poultry men have learned the lesson of outwitted competition in the dear school of experience, and now seem ready to inaugurate a co-operative movement which will place them on an even footing with the closely organized egg handlers of the metropolis and give them some voice in fixing the price of their own products. It is to be hoped that the poultry farmers will not allow themselves to be cowed by the arrogant threats of the San Francisco commission merchants. The very fact that they are stalling up the middle men to resort to such desperate measures shows that they are doing effective work in their own behalf.—Metropolitan Courier.

Irate Husband Scares Count INTERNATIONAL BEAUTY SEEKS DIVORCE Mix-up in Front of Holland House

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—There was a lively scene at the entrance to the Holland House yesterday evening. It brought out the fact that there was trouble between Count Radford, a prominent automobile dealer, and his wife, one of the most striking beauties of New York and London.

Following a tiff at the hotel door, the many friends of the young pair learned that they had separated. Mrs. Radford stated with considerable emphasis yesterday that she proposed to get a permanent separation from her husband and had instructed her lawyers to go ahead with the suit.

The most concerned person in the Holland House scene was Count Manuel de Caserta, a Spanish nobleman of slight build. He was near Mrs. Radford in the hotel lobby when the angry husband rushed up. The Count didn't stay very long. He hurried down Fifth avenue and around the corner of Twenty-ninth street. The hotel detective rushed out to prevent further trouble, and the Count returned, pleading for protection. The Count was positive that Radford had a revolver in his overcoat pocket. Radford, who is big and strong, assured the detective that he had nothing more menacing than his strong right arm.

AFTER THE WAR MAKES PEACE WITH SWEETHEART

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—A romance that began before the Spanish-American war will have a happy ending when Miss Anna Leavy of No. 153 Wyckoff street, Brooklyn, becomes the bride of Edward Bodeck of Manhattan.

In 1897 announcement of their betrothal was awaited by their friends, but owing to a lovers' quarrel it was not made. Counting himself unsuccessful in love, and as the troops were embarking for Cuba, Bodeck enlisted in Company A, engineers, of Wilkes Point. He returned after the war and found the girl he still loved admired by another. He left Brooklyn to forget it all in travel.

After an absence of several years they met, one more eager than the other to forgive. The wedding will be held in Turn Hall, No. 363 Atlantic avenue, where a reception with festivities will follow the ceremony.

land House scene was Count Manuel de Caserta, a Spanish nobleman of slight build. He was near Mrs. Radford in the hotel lobby when the angry husband rushed up. The Count didn't stay very long. He hurried down Fifth avenue and around the corner of Twenty-ninth street. The hotel detective rushed out to prevent further trouble, and the Count returned, pleading for protection. The Count was positive that Radford had a revolver in his overcoat pocket. Radford, who is big and strong, assured the detective that he had nothing more menacing than his strong right arm.

Mrs. Radford, who seemed much incensed at her husband, denied that the Count was the cause of the quarrel. All separated, going different ways.

Mrs. Radford is living in apartments at 237 Fifth avenue. Her husband is maintaining bachelor apartments further up town.

"They are all lies," said Mrs. Radford yesterday to an American reporter, referring to exaggerated reports of the public quarrel, "but my husband is acting like a madman. I do not know the Count."

"Is it true that you are preparing a suit for a separation from your husband?" she was asked.

"I most certainly am," was her ready response.

"I am living alone and very quietly," she went on, "and it is my intention to go to my home in London very soon. In fact, I think I will sail on Saturday."

Lawyer John Kelly, of 285 Broadway, is acting for Mrs. Radford.

"There is nothing to say right now in regard to the case," stated Lawyer Kelly, "but things may be different in a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Radford have agreed mutually to separate and Mr. Radford is paying his wife's expenses. Papers in a suit have not yet been filed."

Mrs. Radford is one of the most strikingly handsome women in the city. She is considerably under thirty and her photograph in a case at the entrance to Rochlitz's studio, at Fifth avenue and Thirtieth street, has for some time attracted much attention. She is tall, a blonde, and distinctly a "Gibson girl."

Mrs. Radford was born in Buffalo. For a number of years she has lived in London and it is there that she met and wed the automobile manufacturer.

Count Caserta has been a figure along Fifth avenue and Broadway for some time.

NIGHT COURT EXONERATES GIRL Charged With Shoplifting Brooklyn Justice Dismissed Case

NEW YORK, March 2.—"It was all a mistake."

So said Edna Utley, a Brooklyn girl of good family, when arraigned in the Night Court on a charge of petit larceny. She was arrested in a store at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street, accused of having stolen a lace waist and a veil from the counters.

The court exonerated the unhappy girl. Magistrate Barlow glanced at half a dozen affidavits attesting to Miss Utley's excellent character, and, granting the request of the store detective that his employers be permitted to withdraw the complaint, wrote "Discharged" across the record.

At the time of her arrest Miss Utley, who lives with her invalid mother at 153 Remsen street, Brooklyn, sobbed: "It will kill my aged mother, and it will lose me my fiancé, whom I dearly love."

Miss Utley's fiancé, William Martinez, an auditor of the International Paper Company, stood gallantly by her. "Poor little girl! You have borne it bravely," he said, when Miss Utley hurried from the courtroom. The young couple went to the office of Mark Alter, their lawyer, whose name has figured in the Drooge case.

Several carriages and automobiles bearing friends of Miss Utley and Martinez arrived at the Jefferson Market. It was nearly 10 o'clock when the case was called. She walked briskly to the bench, many persons stood in the rear aisle.

Miss Utley did not have to stand in the line of prisoners. Miss McCusker, the probationary officer, gave her a seat inside the railing and when her name was called she walked briskly to the bench. The affidavits testifying to her good character were submitted to Magistrate Barlow. While perusing them he listened to the request of the store detective to withdraw the complaint. Miss Utley was much agitated, but she controlled herself, and the moment she saw Magistrate Barlow endorse the papers with a discharge she hurried from the room.

The store detective said later that Miss Utley had signed a paper promising not to sue the managers of the store in which she was arrested.

"The detectives who arrested me were not disconcerted," Miss Utley told a reporter after she left court. "I was shopping in the store and while inspecting the shirt waists I discovered that my pocketbook, containing about $50, was missing. In my excitement I may have placed a waist in my muff."

Germer believe that the Toledo concern is the branch of one of Chicago's large matrimonial agencies. With the farmer ready to assist in the prosecution they communicated with the Federal authorities at Toledo to take action in the case at once.

Cupid Poses As a Real Estate Man Farmer Who Answers Land Advertisement Receives Matrimonial Catalogues in Reply.

CHICAGO, March 2.—A wife offered in place of a promised bargain in Texas farm lands failed to satisfy Geo. Mannard from Burlington, Iowa. His complaint to Assistant United States District Attorney Seward S. Shiner disclosed today a new and ingenious scheme of matrimonial agents to secure victims in the farming districts. With a package of circulars and letters received from the agents, Mannard came to Chicago to urge the Chicago postoffice authorities and the District Attorney to take action to check the cupid agents.

"I answered an advertisement in a Chicago paper" which offered for sale cheap a 160-acre farm in Texas," said Mannard to Attorney Shiner. "I waited for my reply and instead of a description of the land and terms upon which I could buy it I began to receive letters, circulars and newspapers from matrimonial agents, and especially from one A. J. Miller and the Homestead Club, with headquarters in Toledo, O."

"Now, the getting of a wife may be all right, but I would never get mine that way. What I wanted was land, and not a wife. The letters are coming in so fast that I decided something must be done to stop it."

"You see I live with my mother, and if she should find such letters around the house I would get in trouble. I will not be a fish for any one."

Circular letters from the Homestead Club, which the farmer brought with him and which the postoffice inspectors, with Assistant District Attorney Shiner, will hold as evidence on which to base prosecutions, contain a regular schedule of so-called "genuine descriptions of refined and educated ladies, who have joined the club for the purpose of securing a husband." Every one of these "refined and educated" candidates for matrimony has a certificate which is numbered.

Here are some of the descriptions that Mannard received and against further receipt of which he vigorously protests:

Certificate No.	Age	Weight	Complexion	Worth
1284	30	125	Dark	$3,000
1285	31	110	Medium	$3,000
1286	22	120	Light	$3,000
1486	25	120	Blonde	$25,000 $30,000
1287	37	100	Dark	$5,000
1288	22	130	Medium	$3,000
1289	45	120	Dark	$2,000 annual
1290	41	120	Blonde	$4,000
1291	35	115	Medium	Has money
1292	35	115	Dark	Some means
1142	30	120	Medium	$5,000

All that Mannard was requested to do in order to avail himself of the offers to get a wife instead of land in Texas was to send $5 to A. J. Miller of the Homestead Club at the Toledo headquarters. Postoffice Inspector F. P. Sheron, Henry D. Dement and A. E.

Needlework Button Notes

Crocheted buttons are used extensively on the finest lingerie dresses and even on those heavily trimmed with Irish lace.

For a pongee suit the buttons should be of pongee covered with lace or embroidery, although black satin buttons sometimes improve the rather negative shade of natural pongee.

Little odds and ends of lace may be used as button covering and sometimes rings covered with silk embroidery, with colored stones, make beautiful buttons for the finish of an evening gown.

A most charming sofa cushion was made of heavy burlap, with art nouveau tulips or daisies made in kid stitched tightly to the background. The effect is best when the latter is in grass green and the conventional decoration is in brown.

For a costume of silk or crepe the buttons are covered with black satin and this is in turn covered with crocheted design done in black silk. Elaborate buttons can be made by embroidering the covering with a needle, in floss, jet or beads, and sometimes chenille, combined with narrow gold braid, makes buttons that are not only original but beautiful.

Boudoir HINTS For Women

Mustard plaster made with white of an egg do not blister the skin.

Daily exercise with light dumbbells eventually cures round shoulders.

The human form is plastic up to extreme old age and can be improved in consequence; the thing is to have the will to improve and then to have the perseverance to stick to the improving.

The sallowness and grayness that so often accompanies age is not necessary if one is careful of the digestion, sleeps in plenty of fresh air, spends a good part of the day in the sunlight and keeps the liver active.

The woman who does her own shampooing will find nothing more satisfactory than the egg shampoo. It leaves the hair soft and smooth and is strengthening to the follicles, as the yolk contains iron and sulphur.

An excellent lotion for the skin, to take away the drawn feeling, is made from: cologne, one dram; fresh lemon juice, one dram; elderflower water, one ounce. The face can be wiped with this every day, or even twice a day.

An excellent dandruff remedy is made by combining sixty grains of resorcin, one dram of ether, one dram of olive oil and six ounces of alcohol. Friction into the scalp every night and shampoo the hair with melted soap or cast every week.

As a medicine, salt has a wide range of possibilities. A weak solution of hot salt water used frequently as a gargle is one of the best remedies known for sore throat in its incipient stage. The gargle must not be too strong, or it will act as an irritant and thus defeat the end in view.

Red hands and red noses are often caused by an unwise diet and by the use of impure soaps. Tight clothing is another cause. Keep red hands out of hot water as much as possible. Eat lean meats, fruits and vegetables and avoid all pastries, greasy foods and strong coffee.

One girl says that to prevent a black mark on her neck from her collar stud she pins the collar well down behind and does not fasten it to the waist in front, but simply puts the stud through the collar itself. If it is not too tight she finds that the collar does not ride up and that no ugly spots are left on the neck.

How many women find themselves using their elbows as props when resting or reading? The elbows are a very important feature in this day of short sleeves and it is impossible to take too much care of the dimpled arms with which nature is supposed to provide us. Every day in very hot water and then rubbing with cold cream or some other skin food. These details in the care of the appearance do take a great deal of time, but in the end they are worth the effort spent upon them. Calloused elbows are one of the first signs of age and she is lucky who has begun to care for her arms before the dimples of youth entirely disappear.

club rooms at Eighth and Jefferson streets with Mrs. Thomas Hogan presiding. The program was devoted to anecdotes of the life and works of Thomas Moore. In honor of the eminent man the rooms carried an artistic arrangement of emblematic decorations, among which the American flag found a prominent place. After a resume of his life by Mrs. Hogan, readings and songs from the writings of Moore were given by Miss May Walsh, Miss Rose Walsh, Mrs. J. J. McCarthy, Mrs. Thomas Galvin, Mrs. James McAllister, Mrs. James Martin, Mrs. J. J. Butler, Mrs. W. T. Morgan. Each member responded to the roll call with an apt quotation. After the singing of the American hymn an informal reception was held.

CARD PARTIES.

Mrs. Edmund Knowles will entertain tomorrow evening at an informal card party to be given at her home. Only half a dozen friends are invited upon this occasion.

Mrs. F. A. Chadwick will be hostess Thursday afternoon at a card party for a score of matrons who meet every fortnight for an hour at cards.

Suddenly the alarm clock went off. "It's only one ring," he said. "Ours is four rings." Whereupon he went to sleep again and missed his train.

LAY BARE EVILS OF DANCE HALLS

ALBANY, Mar. 2.—The evils of the East Side dance halls and the cadet system were laid bare at the hearing before the Assembly Cities Committee on the Graubard bill for the regulation of dance halls.

Miss Elizabeth S. Williams of the College Settlement said there was an absolute necessity for places where innocent people of such populous sections as the East Side, but many girls, attracted by the dancing, learned forms of vice and evil which otherwise could not come under their observation. She said many girls of sixteen or seventeen were lured to their ruin in such places.

Gaylord S. White of the Association of Neighborhood Workers said the dance halls might be put in two classes. The most objectionable was the back room of a saloon; the second the so-called dancing academies. These latter were not all evil, but in the majority of cases were resorts where bad chance acquaintances were made. In some halls, he said, the bar privileges were sold to the highest bidder. The windows were nailed up and the heat turned on to create a thirst for drink.

E. L. Sheldon told of soliciting for women of the streets in dance halls. He said that in a personal investigation of three weeks he discovered 179 such cases. Assemblyman A. E. Smith wanted to know if the bill would take in Tammany Hall. Sheldon told that Tammany Hall was already known to be taken in.

The Graubard bill will be slightly amended.

Powder Train Explodes; Men Badly Hurt

CARS HURLED FROM THE TRACK

Two Men Badly Hurt and Windows Shattered for Miles.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., March 3.—A cargo of powder carried by a Big Four freight train exploded today while the train was running at full speed two miles from here. Two men are reported fatally injured. The train was a 14-wheeler and several cars were burned. The concussion shook houses and shattered windows for many miles.

At a sharp curve the two cars containing the powder were blown high into the air and the whole train was wrecked.

Whole cars were blown fifty feet from the track and debris was scattered over twenty acres of ground. Two men also were riding in one of the cars and were injured. They are Lloyd Gass of San Antonio, Texas, severely injured about the head and Paul S. Daughters of Paxton, Ill., injured internally. The latter carried an honorable discharge from the United States Navy.

HUBBY'S BLOOD-STAINED APRONS TOO MUCH FOR HER

Having a woman to look after employment was a fair amount of trouble for Mrs. Martha C. Roemer, wife of Gus A. Roemer, a butler who was shot and killed last night. She brought a suit against him and it has resulted in the granting of an order of sequestration by Judge Melton.

She had to wash his blood-stained aprons, which was a task too much for her. As she had to work in his butler shop, which was extremely dirty and her husband grew at her repeatedly because her work was not as good as his, she was well off and there was no need of her doing such work.

Besides, she is told that he had struck her and had driven her aged parents out of her home by his threats of violence to them.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Editor TRIBUNE—In an interview with the manager of the Key-Post company I asked him the reason that they had not given a cent fare to Lillians as promised by their treasurer, M. Smith after he himself had been adopted and the fare to him. He said that I was asked by M. Smith that as he was as good as dead, the fare to him would be a cent fare to him.

In my opinion, after a long period of time something ought to be done to better the condition of the road from High street to Lillians. In this event the manager of the Standard Key-Post Company states that they will reduce the fare to cents.

I am still under the opinion that county government known as a consolidation will do much to further this end. I still stand on the great city and county of Alameda, California.

KANSAS CITY, March 3.—Mrs. Callie M. Long fired five shots from her revolver at a negro who entered her little restaurant at 415 East Fifteenth street late last night. Two of the bullets took effect but the negro escaped. The negro had said to the woman with "How do, honey," Mrs. Long began firing almost before he had finished his salutation.

RETIRED POLICE OFFICER CELEBRATES 82 BIRTHDAY

Is Vigorous and Strong Despite Weight of Advancing Years.

H. B. Rand, Oakland's oldest pioneer policeman and owner of star No. 1 celebrated his 82nd birthday yesterday. He is a retired police head-quarters and seemed as hearty and hale as in the early days when he kept the town in peace and order.

Rand has been retired for several years. Yesterday he stated that he thought himself fit for duty as a retired policeman for several years yet.

Rand is one of the most patriotic citizens of Oakland and every Fourth of July he fires an official salute in front of the police station from the huge old muzzle loading gun that his father carried in the battle of Bunker Hill. When President McKinley visited Oakland a few years ago, Rand volunteered his services for the day and was stationed on Broadway with his white hair and erect figure being commented upon by the crowd as he effectively as a young man.

Rand treasures his old uniform and his star and when his birthday or some national holiday arrives he does both to visit his successors in preserving the peace of Oakland.

BANK COMMISSION CALLED 'A BLUFF'

John C. Lynch Says Powers Should be Increased.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—The bank commission is a supreme bluff, was the startling statement of Bank Commissioner John C. Lynch made before the joint committee of the Senate and Assembly of which he is a member.

Under instructions of the commission said Commissioner Lynch said his secretary has been preparing data on the condition of banks in this state and will submit the same to your committee. It really is a fact, our bank commissioners have absolutely no power. They are a great deal of a bluff. The only power we have is to close a bank.

This works as great a hardship on the depositors as on the bank itself. We have the right to issue orders which are not always obeyed. We can't declare a bank insolvent. If we wish to do so we must refer the matter to the attorney general. We had such a case in San Luis Obispo. We declared a bank insolvent and they appealed to the Supreme Court and the case has been hanging fire for two years. The only thing the bank commissioners can do is to place a custodian in the bank.

Speaking for himself said Senator Curtin a change in legislation is necessary.

Provide Penalties.

There should be a penalty provided if a bank does not comply with the orders of the bank commissioners.

The special banking committee appointed by the last Legislature met this morning in the rooms of the harbor commission in the ferry building with the state bank commissioners and several representative bankers of the city.

No definite action was taken, but a general discussion was carried on by all present relative to ways of improving the banking laws of the state.

At the close of the meeting a committee consisting of Frank B. Aderson of the Bank of California, P. N. Ellenthal of the Anglo California Bank and I. W. Heilman of the Union Trust Company was appointed to make recommendations to the legislative committee relative to new banking laws.

CARMEN TO VOTE ON COMPANY'S SCHEDULE

Will Hold Meeting in Castle Hall After Midnight.

The members of division No. 19, Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America will hold a special meeting tomorrow morning beginning at 2:30 o'clock at the Carmen's Union headquarters in Castle Hall 312 Twelfth street to consider the terms of an agreement for the ensuing year with the Oakland Traction Company.

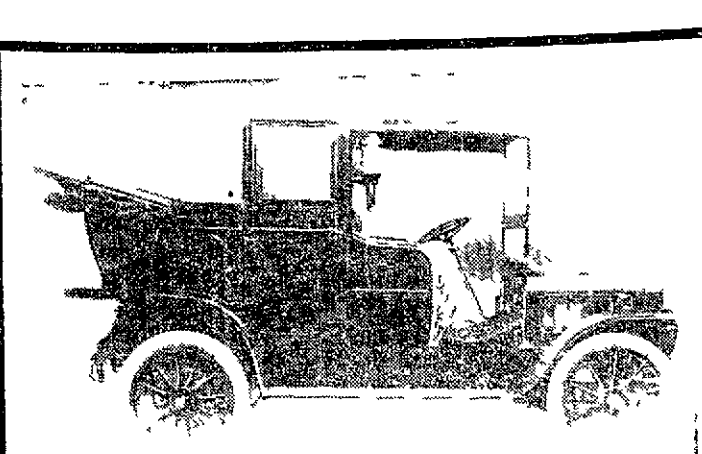

This being a contract between the company and the union all members are expected to express themselves by voting on the proposition and absentees will be subjected to a fine of $2.50 according to the executive committee. Candidates will also be initiated.

Although J. W. Smart, business manager of the union would make no statement this morning it is understood that the motormen and conductors will vote on whether they shall accept or reject the hours and pay under which they have worked during the past year. The scheduled rate is from 30 to 40 cents an hour, graded 1 cent an hour for each additional year's service and 10 hours a day's work.

S. F. Taylor, secretary of the Oakland Traction Company, says that no trouble is anticipated as the result of the midnight meeting of the carmen as he knows of no discontent existing among the men generally and the wise heads in the union understand the situation and their counsel is sure to prevail. The carmen are working at present under a graduated scale. The company has always aimed to treat its employees well. Whenever there was a valid prospect of a disagreement the company's policy has been to anticipate the trouble by liberal concessions before any demand on the part of the company to reduce the pay of the carmen or to add to their burdens. Although the wages of mechanics are lumping all along the line and a great number of men of a class above the ordinary level appear at the car house every morning seeking employment.

BATTLING NELSON AND BRITT FIGHT TONIGHT

JIMMY BRITT HAS SOME TROUBLE REACHING WEIGHT

Men Have Already Boxed Many Rounds; Mike (Twin) After Match—Frankie Neil Sends Letter.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

Tonight James Edward Britt and Battling Nelson will come together in Los Angeles in a ten-round contest, the winner to be matched with Paddy McFarland in San Francisco.

There is little need of setting aside much space for the contest as any one interested in the affairs of Britt and Nelson fully realize just what kind of a contest it will be. The pair have met so often that they are wise to each other's moves and the chances are that the contest in the south tonight will be rather disappointing.

Britt and Nelson have now boxed fifty-eight rounds and if they do not know every move that the other fellow makes then it must be admitted that they are a pair of dum-heads.

In a contest where the men have met so often it is generally the case that the men go to a draw, but in the contest in the south Nelson is so much inferior to Britt as a boxer that the native son should have little trouble in outpointing him.

Britt's Condition.

The news has come, however, that Britt is not in the very best kind of condition.

It appears that Jimmy reached 134½ pounds with ease but that he could not shake off the extra pound and a half. For this reason he has been compelled to work right up to the hour, and yesterday resorted to the use of artificial means to reduce his weight.

Nelson of course can make the weight easily, and will no doubt enter the ring in the shape of a champion.

He has made up his mind to again make Jimmy an attraction and if he is given a free rein he will do it.

Mike (Twin) Wants Match.

Jack (Twin) Sullivan has written the management of the Marysville Club, asking that Brother Mike be matched there with Frank Mantell. Jack says that the Ketchel contest should be overlooked as it was caught too quick for the punch to be anything but a lucky one. Mike and Mantell would make a good card and some of the clubs could do worse than make the match.

Frankie Neil's Letter.

For the second time within the past month a letter has been received from Frankie Neil in which the ex-champion takes the opportunity to set forth a long argument that is supposed to set forth reasons to show that he is not all in as a fighter and that he will not be a second time conqueror, Abe Attell.

The letter also contains a paragraph set aside for the benefit of the sporting writers. In this paragraph Neil accuses the writers of not one paper but all of them of combining in a general knock against him and to those who have referred to him as a has-been he is particularly bitter.

Immediately after the contest with

Abe Attell the Neils made a big howl about the one-sided mill being stepped and all sorts of accusations were sent forth from the Neil home. Now, however they refer to it as an example of the Neils would have done to Attell had he been allowed to go on and receive a slaughtering.

There is no use discussing the merits of the argument for they are so new that it is foolish for the fact that none of the mentioned fighters were in any such condition as Frankie Neil was when they entered the ring or were they at any time so helpless as at a man's mercy as this game little fellow Neil was.

It is sufficient to say that the best judges of the boxing game in San Francisco all agreed that Spide Kelly did the correct thing when he stepped into the ring and put a stop to the one-sided affair.

Other Victories

A long string of fights in which the game strong fighter comes through and wins from his clever opponent are set forth in the letter as an example of the Neils would have done to Attell had he been allowed to go on and receive a slaughtering.

There is no use discussing the merits of the argument for they are so new that it is foolish for the fact that none of the mentioned fighters were in any such condition as Frankie Neil was when they entered the ring or were they at any time so helpless as at a man's mercy as this game little fellow Neil was.

It is sufficient to say that the best judges of the boxing game in San Francisco all agreed that Spide Kelly did the correct thing when he stepped into the ring and put a stop to the one-sided affair.

Frankie Neil's many numerous reasons to show that he is not a has-been the principle one being his youth. This may all be bit to the writer it would seem that a fighter who had the short end of the last four years he has fought for proof to him that he would stop and think for a moment that he is not the fighter that he was in former years.

Fighter's Opinion.

There is not the slightest doubt but that Neil is of the opinion that he is as good as ever every fighter feels that way about it until such time as they are almost beaten to a jelly, then they realize all too late that they are all in. Experts on condition who witnessed Neil's last start declare that he is all in and in the opinion of most followers of the sport a fighter's opinion regarding his condition is worthless.

If it were possible for Neil to come back and show that he was not to be counted among those who have gone there is no one that would be more pleased than the same sporting writer who has been so kind as to publish his letter. Experts on condition who witnessed Neil's last start declare that he is all in and in the opinion of most followers of the sport a fighter's opinion regarding his condition is worthless.

Player's Idea Of Swell Scoff

That many ball players when they break into the game are far from being polished gems was illustrated forcibly at Dallas Texas once. That reason the St. Louis team picked up a bird named Edmondson. He came from some where in the cactus belt and he was a sure fillalu chick. At that time the Browns were stopping at the Oriental Hotel (the swelled hostility in all Texas Edmondson had finally gotten hepped to the fact that a toothpick was meant for purposes other than ornamental and one might be rushed up to McAlister. "What kind of a point is this?" "Joint?" gasped McAlister. "Why dear boy this is a $2.00 a day hotel. What's the matter?" "Why," responded the cactus-brusher. "They said they were going to have a swell dinner here tonight and they didn't even have ham and eggs on the bill of fare."

He having scored 19 of the 22 points for the Reliance Club. The teams were made up of the following players: Reliance—Crutcher, Notage, Nelson, Voss and Halbert. St. Mary's—Rusell, Garri, bald, Downes, Vera, Norman, Ryan and Reardon.

PITCHER HARDIE SENDS IN SIGNED CONTRACT TO PRESIDENT ED WALTER

D. A. Hardy the big left handed twirler whom Mr. Walter added to his string of pitchers at the end of last season has finally sent in his signed contract and the President of the Oakland Club has forwarded him transportation to make the trip from Toronto to Oakland.

Hardy was holding out for a time. No one knew exactly why except that it was force of habit. The newcomer is said to be a corking good pitcher and so excellent a judge of raw baseball material as Connie Mack has vouched for his ability to fool the hitters.

With Hardy in the fold Oakland will be well off for pitching material. The team will have in Hopkins and Hardy a pair of left handed twirlers who should make some of the other clubs step some to beat.

The pitching staff is now signed up with the exception of Deller and his contract is said expected at headquarters.

Just as soon as the conditions of the grounds will permit of it, Danny Long will have his squad of San Francisco players out at Freeman's Park, getting an early warm up. Yesterday's program called for the Seals to do a little warm up stunt and the men assembled to make the trip to Freeman's Park but the condition of the grounds were such that C. M. Mohler thought it best not to take his men out to the grounds, and sent them through a bit of work at Gleason's gymnasium. It was the first real work of the players and many of them had sore arms when the

LONDON SPORTSMAN SAYS BURNS' LATE BLUFF IS ALL JOLLY ROT

LONDON, March 3.—The Sportsman prints a long article this morning protesting against Tommy Burns' absurd challenge to fight British boxers in batches. It says that nobody disputes his right to the title of champion of the world but such tactics are not good sport and would only degrade and place in peril the sport of boxing which with great difficulty has been raised into the position of a legal pastime.

Reliance Club Announces Dates

The Reliance Athletic Club will hold its next big night Friday, March 13 and the mainmaker is making arrangements to offer a great card to the patrons of the club. Zeke Gardner and Terry Kelly, the Irish who put up such a snappy contest last month, will be rematched in the main event. This match has been made to please the fans who have requested that the men be signed again. The management will stage a new star in the person of Tom Woods the San Francisco light-weight who is reported to be the fastest boy developed in the four-round game that flourished there some time back. Woods won from Champion Martin and that contest made him the best fighter in his class.

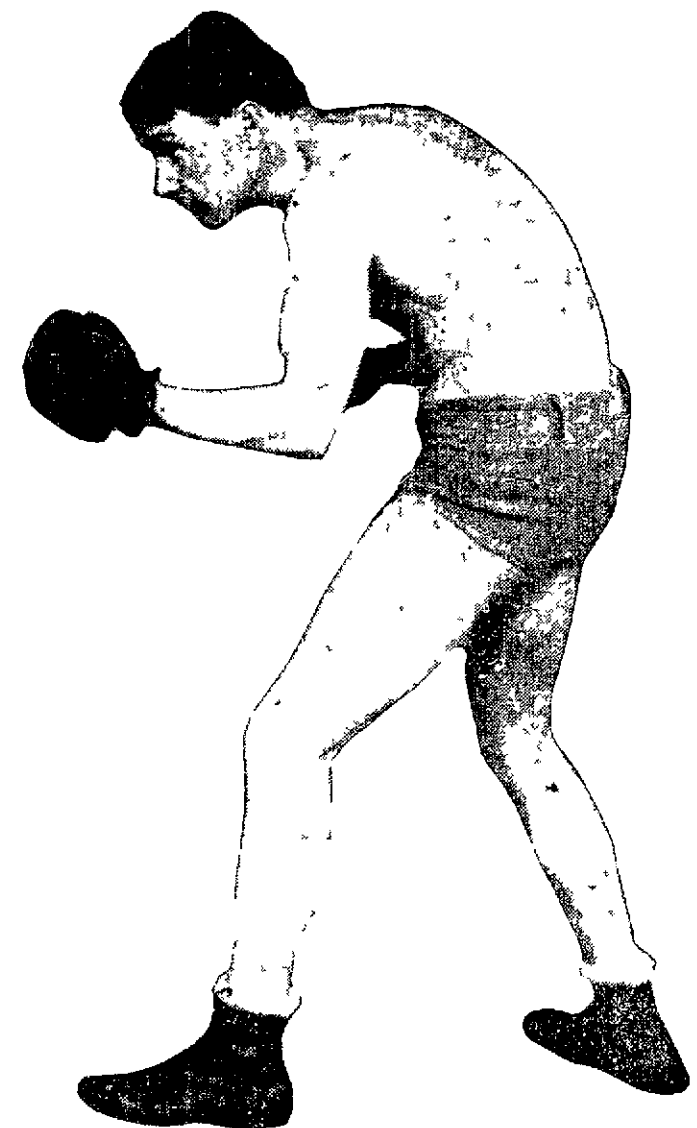

Johnson Names National Club

NEW YORK, March 3.—Jack Johnson the colored heavy weight who has been on the trail of Tommy Burns for some time and who, it was believed had at last been granted his long-sought-for wish, that of the chance to meet the French-Canadian, will not fight Tommy Burns unless the National Sporting Club holds the fight.

Sam Fitzpatrick, who is looking after Johnson's interests today declared that he will not allow his man to fight for any purse put up by a London syndicate unless the National Sporting Club of London secures the match.

JAMES EDWARD BRITT, WHO WILL MEET BATTLED NELSON IN THEIR FOURTH REUNION AT LOS ANGELES TONIGHT.

PITCHER HARDIE SENDS IN SIGNED CONTRACT TO PRESIDENT ED WALTER

George Hideo, arrived in the city yesterday. The second sacker is looking much better than he did last year and expects to have a good season. The fans hope that Hideo will show a big improvement over his work of last year at that Hideo played good baseball during the early months of the campaign but did not show the proper staying quality.

Charlie Irwin will likely play till he dies for the Seals in their series against the Chicago White Sox. It is not certain that either Landry or McVie will be on hand and as Irwin will not have to report until after the big series there is a chance that the old favorite will be seen holding down the difficult corner for the Seals.

Zamboni who played in the State League last year has been ordered to report by the Philadelphia Athletics management at once. O'Leary who played last year in the Athletics last year is holding out for an increase in salary and the chances are that if he doesn't sign soon that Connie Mack will give Zamboni a chance at the place that O'Leary held down last year.

The Seals will be in Oakland today for the first time in a long time and it is expected that they will run through some out-door practice stunts.

It is Danny Long's intention to put the men through a little light work before they start their series with the Chicago White Sox.

The Lion Will Roar Here Soon

NEW YORK, March 3.—A cablegram received yesterday announces that George Hackenschmidt the Russian lion will sell from Liverpool by the Lusitania on Saturday next for New York to begin preparations for his champion hip-hitch with Frank Gotch. Hackenschmidt states that he is in excellent condition and fully expects to win the championship contest which is to take place in Chicago April 3 in two straight falls.

Ham Iberg Wanted By Seattle Nine

Dave Dugdale of Seattle wants to sign Ham Iberg to pitch for the Slavs in the coming season but the figures named by Dugdale are not high enough to attract the slow ball artist. Oakland and Alameda of the State League are also dickering for Iberg but he has not signed any contract up to date. Contrary to report Iberg declares that he is in fine condition and ready to pitch the game of his career.

Rhodes Scholar Wins the Sprint

LONDON, March 3.—L. C. Hill, a Rhodes scholar from Michigan, won the final in the 100 yard dash in the university sports this afternoon. He defeated N. Clavasse of Trinity College by two yards. Hill's time was 10.2 seconds.

Sam Fitzpatrick, who is looking after Johnson's interests today declared that he will not allow his man to fight for any purse put up by a London syndicate unless the National Sporting Club of London secures the match.

White Sox Are Due Thursday

Tip O'Neill, who is in charge of the itinerary of the Chicago White Sox, wired Charley Hannan this morning that the White Sox ball club would arrive in Oakland Thursday. They are scheduled to play at Freeman's Park Sunday morning and the fans will have a chance to see real ball players in action when Comiskey's boys line up against the San Francisco Seals.

Hoppe Wins From Amateur Demarest

CHICAGO, March 3.—Willie Hoppe the professional beat Calvin Demarest, the amateur champ on 400 to 300 in the first block of points in their 2100 point billiard match here last night. Hoppe was playing 181 style in preparation for his coming battle with Jake Schaeffer and Demarest was knocking out the lancers at 142.

On the strength of the opening session Hoppe is a little more than twice as strong a player as Demarest for 181 is at least twice as difficult as 142. Hoppe averaged 18 and Demarest 14.19.

Cardinal Men to Play Santa Clara

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 3.—The Cardinal baseball team will make the trip to Santa Clara this afternoon to meet the Santa Clara team at their home grounds. Goodell and Rutledge will likely be in points for the Cardinal team.
